

HMM 2023

13th International Symposium on Hysteresis Modeling and Micromagnetics

June 4–7, 2023 – TU Wien – Vienna (Austria)

<https://www.asc.tuwien.ac.at/hmm2023/>

The biennial International Symposium on Hysteresis Modeling and Micromagnetics (HMM) is an interdisciplinary forum for discussion of the most recent advancements in the fields of hysteresis modeling and micromagnetics. It aims to bring together scientists with various backgrounds to exchange ideas and to present new approaches and results.

Keynote speakers

Oksana Chubykalo-Fesenko (ICMM, Madrid)
Giovanni Di Fratta (University of Naples Federico II)
Karl Fabian (NTNU, Trondheim)
Riccardo Hertel (IPCMS, Strasbourg)
Richard D. James (University of Minnesota)
Pavel Krejčí (Czech Academy of Sciences, Prague)
Kanta Ono (Osaka University)
Anja Schlömerkemper (University of Würzburg)
Bernd Schroers (University of Edinburgh)

Important dates

Abstract submission deadline:	February 28, 2023
Notification of acceptance:	March 15, 2023
Registration deadline (early bird):	March 31, 2023
Registration deadline (standard):	April 30, 2023

Acknowledgments

universität wien

Local organizing committee

Dirk Praetorius (TU Wien)
Michele Ruggeri (University of Strathclyde)
Thomas Schrefl (University for Continuing Education Krems)
Dieter Suess (University of Vienna)

Der Wissenschaftsfonds.

MEETING
DESTINATION
VIENNA
NOW • TOGETHER